Investment objective

Vanguard Variable Insurance Fund Small Company Growth Portfolio seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation.

Investment strategy

The portfolio invests at least 80% of its assets primarily in common stocks of smaller companies. These companies tend to be unseasoned but are considered by the portfolio's advisors to have superior growth potential. Also, these companies often provide little or no dividend income. The portfolio's 80% policy may be changed only upon 60 days' notice to shareholders.

Plain talk about risk

The portfolio's total return, like stock prices generally, will fluctuate within a wide range, so an investor could lose money over short or even long periods. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices. The portfolio is also subject to:

Stock market risk: The chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising stock prices and periods of falling stock prices.

Investment style risk: The chance that returns from small-capitalization growth stocks will trail returns from the overall stock market. Historically, small-cap stocks have been more volatile in price than the large-cap stocks that dominate the overall market, and they often perform quite differently.

Manager risk: The chance that poor security selection will cause the fund to underperform relevant benchmarks or other funds with a similar investment objective.
