Investment objective

Vanguard FTSE Social Index Fund seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of large- and mid-capitalization stocks.

Investment strategy

The fund employs a “passive management”—or indexing—investment approach designed to track the performance of the FTSE4Good US Select Index. The index is composed primarily of large- and mid-cap stocks that have been screened for certain social and environmental criteria by the index sponsor, which is independent of Vanguard. The fund attempts to replicate the index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index.

Plain talk about risk

An investment in the fund could lose money over short or even long periods. You should expect the fund's share price and total return to fluctuate within a wide range, like the fluctuations of the overall stock market. The fund's performance could be hurt by:

Stock market risk: The chance that stock prices overall will decline. Stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising stock prices and periods of falling stock prices. The fund's target index may, at times, become focused in stocks of a particular sector, category, or group of companies. Because the fund seeks to track its target index, the fund may underperform the overall stock market.

Investment style risk: The chance that the stocks selected for the FTSE4Good US Select Index will, in the aggregate, trail returns from other mutual funds screened with similar criteria, from other asset classes, or from the overall stock market. Historically, mid-cap stocks have been more volatile in price than the large-cap stocks that dominate the overall market, and they often perform quite differently.
